

From the Human Security Report 2005

Figure 1.22 Which issues should be the top priority for your government?

Source: Human Security Centre, 2005

Most people believe that addressing economic or social issues should be their government's number one priority—not war, terrorism or crime.