

Figures for the Human Security Report 2012

Figure 4.7 Trends in Secondary Education Attainment Rates, 1990–2008

Data Source: Scott Gates et al.

Education outcomes in conflict countries are lower on average than in nonconflict countries. Remarkably, however, school attainment increased at a similar rate in both conflict countries and nonconflict countries.

Citation and Data Information

Human Security Report Project. Human Security Report 2012: Sexual Violence, Education, and War: Beyond the Mainstream Narrative. Vancouver: Human Security Press, 2012.

Scott Gates et al., "Consequences of Civil Conflict," World Development Report 2011 Input Paper (Washington, D.C.: World Bank, 2010): 41, <http://wdr2011.worldbank.org/PRIO> (accessed 19 July 2012).