

Figures for the Human Security Report 2012

Figure 8.2 A Close-Up of the Global Trends in Deaths from One-Sided Violence, 1989–2009

Data Source: UCDP/HSRP Dataset.

The Rwandan genocide in 1994, which killed some 500,000 civilians, overshadows other deadly campaigns. The truncated graph shows that 1996 was also a deadly year largely due to one campaign in the DRC that killed at least 27,000.

Note: The total in 1994 is 504,084 deaths, some 500,000 of which are attributed to the genocide in Rwanda.

Citation and Data Information

Human Security Report Project. Human Security Report 2012: Sexual Violence, Education, and War: Beyond the Mainstream Narrative. Vancouver: Human Security Press, 2012.

Uppsala Conflict Data Program (UCDP), Uppsala University, Uppsala, Sweden/ Human Security Report Project, School for International Studies, Simon Fraser University, Vancouver, Canada.